PROCTOR FARMER MARKETS NEARLY 700 CRATES BERRIES FROM THREE-FOURTHS ACRE

H. T. Richardson, Proctor farmer, raised and marketed 691 crates of blackberries this season from a three-quarter acre strip of sandy land on his farm located about twelve miles from Comanche. Government agents have measured the land, and give the exact amount of berry acreage on the Richardson farm at three-fourth of one acre.

Mrs. Richardson kept an accurate account of every crate of berries produced and money paid out to pickers. Pickers alone received $76.01 for gathering berries on this small strip of land. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson give their net profit from their patch this season at $294.47.

The Richardsons contracted their three-quarter acre of berries to the Durham Berry Plant, and when outstanding delivery of berries began to come in from the Richardson farm, W. M. Durham, manager of the berry plant, paid a personal visit Monday to this outstanding berry patch. Mr. Durham says that at that time, 691 crates had been marketed from the patch and that pickers were still at work with more berries to gather.

The Richardson farm is outstanding, and in addition to berries there is a fine 65 acre orchard, some of which will produce in their line similar yields to their berries.

The Richardson production of berries is the heaviest production reported in the county and by far above the general average of some 100 crates per acre.

This patch is on fine sandy loam soil; Mr. Durham attributes this super yield to the fine land that the berries were planted on, and the expert care that the Richardsons have kept of the patch.

Warehouse Here Ships Ten Car Loads of Wool

Wool shipments this week by Burton Brothers, local warehousemen brought their total amount of wool shipped this season to ten car loads.

The price of wool has advanced since the opening market price of twenty-two cents a month and a half ago. The highest priced wool sold here this season brought 24½ cents per pound. The prices varied from 21 to 24½ cents.

The ten cars shipped by Burton Brothers will exceed 250,000 pounds. Hollis Burton estimates the number of pounds of wool in their warehouse now at around 40,000.

Mr. Burton says that he believes that most of the wool has been brought in, and expects only 10 or 15 thousand pounds more this season.

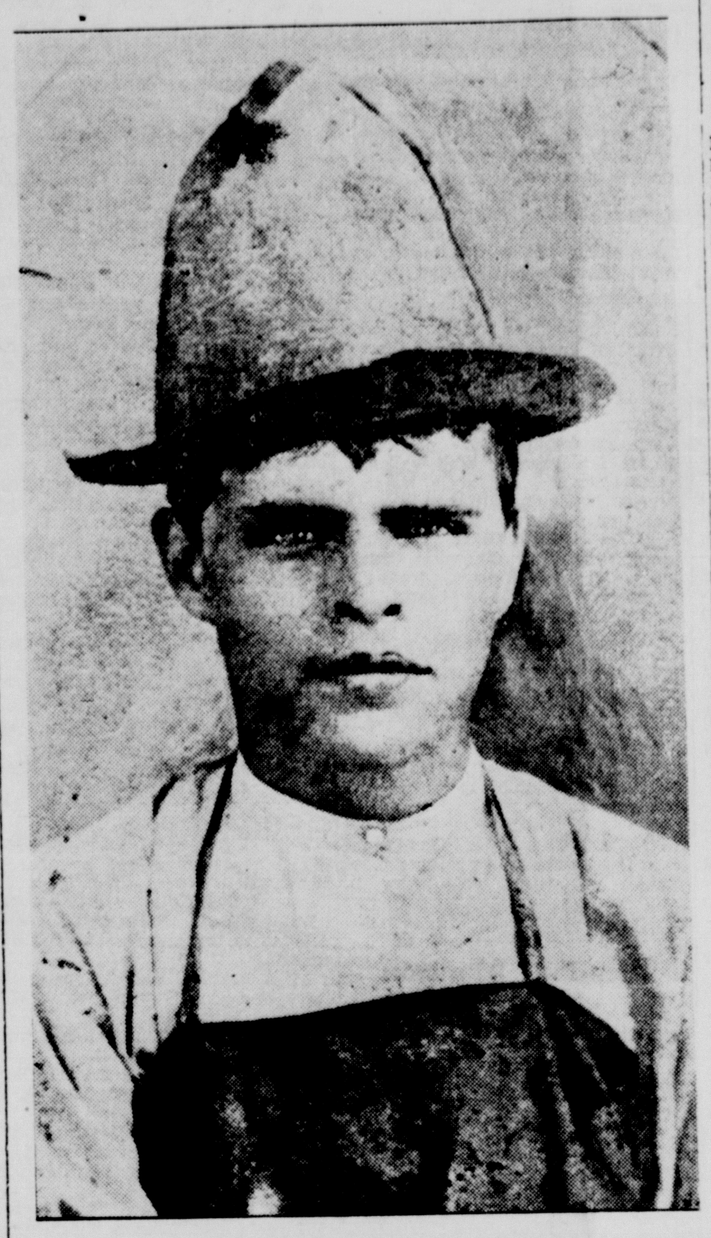
NOTED GEOLOGIST AS HE APPEARED IN 1875 WHEN A 'DEVIL' ON CHIEF



Dr. Robert T. Hill, internationally known geologist, is pictured above as he appeared in 1875 when he was a printer assisting his brother, Joe Hill in issuing The Comanche Chief. This photo was presented to L. B. Russell recently by Dr. Hill, being a reprint from a da-guerreotype, a kind of photograph known to our grandparents, and replaced by modern photography more than a half century ago. Dr Hill started 1939 off by being honored with a banquet by The American Academy of Science in New York City, in attendance at which were some of the leading men of science in America. He was honored at Comanche recently by a banquet at the Ridgeway by a group of friends.

Merchants Plan Fall Festival

By Ruby Koen, Secretary

In a meeting of members of the Retail Merchants Association, the possibility of promoting and having a County Fair or Festival, with a free watermelon slicing and other attractions and entertainments, was discussed.

We solicit the co-operation and help of the farmers, the merchants, the rural clubs, the ladies clubs, and the business mens clubs of the county.

The chief purpose and aim of this county affair is for a general get-together of the residents of the county, and to advertise and build up a better market for our watermelons, fruits, and other farm products, which we hope to have displayed here.

We are open to suggestions from everyone, and urge you to write or call at the Retail Merchants Office and discuss your ideas and plans.

In the near future, we plan to have a general meeting to make more definite plans, and we urge everyone to attend this meeting.

Gustine Plans To Hold Rodeo Every Month

The Citizens Committee of Gustine composed of W. M. Allsup and O. D. Johnston as chairmen completed financial arrangements this week for establishment of permanent rodeo grounds within the town of Gustine.

The business men and farmers in the Gustine territory donated enough money and materials to build suitable pens and a large arena. The arena is to be 100 yards long and fifty yards wide.

The rodeo, sponsored by Gustine Citizens Committee, will be held each month. E. L. Hale, Gustine banker, says there are plenty of local cowboys to assure good performances at every show. Cash prices will be awarded to winners of the events.

Plans are also underway at Gustine to hold an auction sale of livestock and farm products at the new rodeo grounds.

Complete financial arrangements have been made, but work on the building of the new pens, shutes, etc., will not start until after the grain season is over.

DURHAM BERRY CANNING PLANT TO ENLARGE FOR NEXT SEASON; MAY START CANNING OF PEAS

W. M. Durham, manager of the Durham Berry Plant, announced Wednesday morning that the plant was highly pleased with the blackberry canning here this season and will continue to operate next season.

Since this is the first year that the Durham firm has operated the canning plant, Mr. Durham used this season as an experiment, and did not know whether to establish the berry canning plant as a permanent Comanche business enterprise.

"The possibilities for a canning plant appear extremely favorable for the Comanche section," says Mr. Durham, "and our tentative plans are to widen the canning field to various other farm products, and not to limit it strictly to blackberries. We are seriously considering purchasing equipment to use in the canning of black-eyed peas, and this particular line will probably be our first venture in the canning field outside of the blackberries." Mr. Durham continued.

The Durham Plant, by taking all surplus berries in the county, created the highest market here for berries in recent years; growers received almost twice as much for berries this year as they did three and four years ago, when the plant was not in operation.

Plant officials believe that if they are able to widen the field of canning to blackeyed peas and other products that farmers of this section will be benefitted similar to that of blackberry growers because of the assurance of a ready market and possibilities of higher market prices.

The Durham plant is not yet signing contracts for the 1940 berries, but will guarantee all growers, who plan to increase their berry acreage or new growers who plant to plant their first acreage, that the Durham Berry Plant will have a ready market for all berries at highest possible market prices.

The plant canned and shipped eight carloads of berries this season, but officials of the plant say that they expect to build this up to 12 or 15 cars within the next few years. The present capacity of the plant is a car a day.

The berries are now put up in attractive No. 2 and gallon size cans, and are distributed throughout the entire State; however, most of the "Comanche Chief" berries were shipped to West Texas wholesale grocery dealers.

Three New Wells Added To Amity Shallow Oil Field

Three new producers were added to the Amity shallow field last week according to John Roberson who was in Comanche Tuesday. The Jim Whitesides well on the A. K. Anderson lease came in as a producer and is making from 5 to 10 barrels daily.

The McCarter Company well on the I. W. Roberson tract is believed to be good for 20 barrels daily and another light well was brought in on the Mary Smith tract.

The Goss Well on the Tom Steele place about a mile and a quarter southwest of the McCarter property was reported dry.

Culberson Brothers of Fort Worth set pipe at 2780 feet on the Sam Poteet place Thursday of last week and drilling is underway. The well is located east of the Lone Star gasoline plant, west of Sipe Springs and about six miles east of Rising Star.

SIXTY MILES OF R.E.A. LINES HAVE BEEN CONSTRUCTED

Approximately fifty to sixty miles of Rural Electrification lines of Project 1 of Comanche County have already been laid, and A. C. Thomas, superintendent of the local project, is optomistic over the chance of getting the first rural electric power for the county turned on by July 15.

In the construction of this first sixty miles, around 750 poles have been erected. An estimated one hundred and fifty Comanche County men have received employment in the building of these lines.

The O. O. Fuller Construction Company, Nevada, Missouri, is cooperating to the fullest extent with local R.E.A. officials in hiring customers of the line. The successful bid by the Fuller Company was $137,218.39. The line is to be 235 miles long.

200 Houses Wired.

Two hundred houses on the R.E.A. lines have already been wired and inspected. Mr. Thomas advises all line customers to get their houses wired immediately, because there will be a slight increase in the inspection fee after June 29. All houses must be inspected, and Government approved.

Lines have already been laid at Sidney, Sipe Springs, and from Comanche to Van Dyke, Downing and Beattie. Tap lines are being run each way from these towns.

Second Allotment Expected.

Superintendent Thomas received a letter this week from C. Faulkenwald, head of the examining division at Washington, stating that he expected to release the allotment on Project 2 in Comanche and Eastland Counties within a short while.

Plans are also underway to start a Rural Electrification project in Brown County.

A. C. Thomas said that there would be needed 10 furnished apartments and boarding places for 25 single men when REA heavy construction gets underway here July 1 and that for those who will have such accomodations to leave their names at The Chief. The apartments will be needed for two months.

Having just returned from a meeting of the Texas Press Association at Lubbock, we will pass on a few of our observations to our readers.

—o—

There were about 200 newspapermen in attendance, most of whom were publishers of weeklies or small dailies. One of the few big dailies represented was The Dallas Morning News by Editor Joe Taylor and Lynn Landrum.

—o—

Taylor, who is now about 80 years of age, is perhaps one of the best known newspapermen in Texas. He has been a member of the Texas Press Association for forty years and was its president in 1913.

—o—

Landrum has been with The Dallas News for 19 years but has been widely known for only about a year since he began publishing his "Thinking Out Loud" column on the front page of The News. This is perhaps the best known column in a Texas newspaper. Landrum says what he thinks and much of what he thinks is contrary to what other people think. He says that he gets hundreds of fan letters each day through the mail, one half of which praise him and the other "cuss" him.

—o—

Landrum told the Texas newspapermen that what the United States needs is a "No. 1 Budget Man" at its head and that such a man can be found at Uvalde, Texas.

—o—

Lubbock is about 275 miles from Comanche and is on the South Plains about 30 miles beyond the Cap Rock. It is a city of about 35,000 people and is said to be the largest town in Texas where intoxicating liquor is not sold legally. It is said that not even a slot machine is allowed to be operated in Lubboc.

—o—

As one enters Lubbock, he sees the electric slogan, "Lubbock, the Hub of the Plains and the Home of Texas Tech."

—o—

The town is only 48 years old, having been founded in 1891. It was named for Lieutenant Tom Lubbock of Terry's Texas Rangers, who was killed during the Civil War in the Battle of Shiloh, April, 1862.

In 1910, nine years after Lubbock was founded the town had only 1938 people. At the next Federal census in 1920 the figures were given as 4,051, just 500 bigger than Comanche which was listed at slightly more than 3500. In 1930 the census was 20,520 and the estimated population today is 34,500.

—o—

The altitude of Lubbock is nearly 2000 feet higher than Comanche, being listed at 3251. The average rainfall is 20 inches, 17 inches of which falls during the period from April to October.

—o—

Building permits in Lubbock during 1938 were more than three and a half million dollars, there being 786 new residences alone erected during last year.

Lubbock is mostly a new town, there being few old houses or buildings in the city and, of course, none older than 48 years. Lubbock has taken the prize the last 10 years for being the cleanest town in Texas. It is against the law to allow weeds to grow in vacant lots. If the owner doesn't have them cut, the City does and charges the cost as taxes against the place.

—o—

Texas Tech is the third largest school in Texas and is the youngest major college in the U. S. Founded in 1925, it now has an enrollment of 3896 during the regular session. Of these 536 are specializing in agriculture, 896 in engineering, 460 in home economics, and 2005 in the arts and sciences.

—o—

Texas Tech has the largest college campus in Texas, consisting of 2,008 acres.

—o—

Clifford Jones, millionaire ranchman, who was selected as president of Texas Tech, a few months ago, is the only president of a major college in the U.S.A. who does not hold a degree.

The tax rate for the City of Lubbock is $1.05, schools 95c, and State and County 99c, making a total of $2.99.

The temperature in Lubbock Friday was 108 and the heat seemed to be drier than at Comanche and newspapermen from the lower altitudes of Texas had a little trouble of breathing freely.

—o—

The people seem to be progressive and ever one you met was a Lubbock boster. Lubbock is a good town, located in a fine country, but when all is said and done, there is no place like Comanche for a good all around place in which to live.

—o—

Much work was done in Comanche during the Clean-Up period of June 1 to June 12 as set by the City Council. Mayor M. Coleman states that the street rights-of way will be scraped with the City maintainer, thus eliminating the weeds and grass and destroying the nesting places of the mosquitoes and flies. All this could not be completed during the Clean-Up Week.

The new Dublin Hospital which opened for business there a few weeeks ago is doing a good business according to The Dublin Progress which says that it is doing much for the upbuilding of the city and points out that three babies were born in the hospital June 3.

—o—

U. S. Senator Morris Shepard is in favor of exempting all homesteads up to $5,000.00 from all taxes, City, School, County, and State. In Texas homesteads up to $3,000 are exempt from State taxes, but the heaviest taxes, City and School are not exempt.

—o—

Tuesday, June 14, was Flag Day, but it was little observed in Comanche except by a few. For years a person passing by the L. B. Russell home on Flag Day could see both the U.S. and Texas flag on display.

—o—

Building continues in Comanche. Mrs. John Jacobs is having a nice cottage erected on a lot near the J. A. Rock residence. A nice tile building is being erected near the cemetery for Atwood's Hatchery; A new granary is being built on the Jim Cox Ranch; Roy Brannon is building a second new house near his residence on South Main Street West.

—o—

With the erection of the new court house being delayed on account of funds not being available for the Federal grant, the court house square again will be used for a market place for the farmers products this summer.

—o—

Harry Hines, member of the State Highway Commission, will be a candidate for Governor, when the right opportunity presents itself according to rumors heard at the State Press Assocation convention. Hines was one of the principal speakers to the Texas editors. Most newspapermen from various parts of the State are of the opinion that O'Daniel is just about as strong as ever with the masses and that he would be re-elected by a big majority should the election be held today.

—o—

If the Legislature fails to submit a constitutional amendment on a sales tax, O'Daniel is almost certain to seek a second term and will ask the voters to elect only members of the Legislature who are in favor of a sales or transaction tax by the constitutional amendment route according to reports from Austin.

—o—

The first local prospective candidate for office in 1940 was announced in a Comanche cafe this week by Sam Lewis who said he would be a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, if as many as five people asked him.

—o—

With a number of new houses being erected in Comanche, the rent situation is being relieved. For the first time within several years, there are one or two vacant houses in Comanche and several apartments. None of the houses have been advertised in The Chief for rent, however, and it may be that it is not generally known that they are vacant.

—o—

If God be with you, everything which is impossible becomes possible," says an old German proverb.

—o—

We do not know just how long C. P. St. Clair has been writing advertisements for the Higginbotham firm, but know that it has been long enough for him to have attended an Ad Men's convention in Dallas 27 years ago. A study of the old copies of The Chief show that Mr. St. Clair has been progressive in his advertising ideas. Just last month the Simplicity Pattern Company, a nationally known concern, which carries some single advertisements that cost over a thousand dollars in the nationally known magazines, published an article commending an advertisement by Mr. St. Clair which appeared in The Chief. He also received requests from points out of Texas for copies of the Higginbotham page advertisement carried in The Chief on "Cotton Week."

—o—

Country towns located in and near the city of Dallas should begin to perk up. Three months ago a Dallas hat concern went out to Garland, a distance of 15 miles, and constructed a large plant in which hundreds of people will be employed. The past week saw plans completed for the building of a million dollar apartment house for employes of another Dallas concern near the town of Mesquite. Both Garland and Mesquite will be direct beneficiaries of these two programs of expansion. After all, it might not be so bad living near the big town; Dallas seems to be going to the country. However, it is high time, for over a period of many years the country has been going to Dallas, says Rufus Higgs.

—o—

HOW THEY RANK: One way to rank the various State-supported schools might be by the salaries paid their presidents under the House educational appropriation bill.

Starting with the University of Texas, the salaries are graduated downward. The University president's pay is fixed at $10,000 plus any more the regents may determine up to $7,500 more. A. & M. College is next with a pay check of $8,000 a year for the president.

The Texas Tech president's salary is fixed at $7,500, and the president of the Texas College for Women at Denton is $7,000. The head of the School of Mines at El Paso gets $6,000.

Salaries of the teachers college presidents, and of the college at Kingsville are fixed at $5,000 with some of these officials getting their house in addition.

The "dean" at John Tarleton, Stephenville's proposed new four-year college would be paid $5,000; while the dean at North Texas Agricultural College would get $4,500. At the bottom is the "principal" of Prairie View Normal, $2,700.

—o—

Harry Hines in an address to the Texas editors at Lubbock last week said a newspaper dyspeptic whose sarcasm and pessimism throws a wet towel on everything and everybody in a community, always finding fault but never suggesting a constructive remedy, is a community liability.

Are you a builder or a wrecker? asked Hines who quoted the follow poem to illustrate the difference between the two:

WHICH?

"I saw them tearing a building down
A gang of men in a busy town,
With a ho-heave-ho and a lusty yell,
They swung a beam and side wall fell.

I asked the foreman,
'Are these men skilled
As the men you'd hire
if you had to build?
He laughed and said, 'No ndeed,
Just common labor is all I need.
I can easily wreck in a day or two
What builders have taken a year to do.'

I asked myself as I went my way,
Which of these roles have I tried to play,
Am I a builder who works with care
Measuring life by the rule and square
Or am I a wrecker who walks the town
Content with the labor of tearing down?"

—o—

Editor Comanche Chief,
Comanche, Texas.
Dear Sir:

As we old time Comanche folks feel absolutely lost without The Chief, we are enclosing another year's subscription to be mailed to Mrs. Nellie Russell, 19½ N. Dewey St., Okla. City, who used to be Miss Nellie Denny in Comanche. We are neighbors here and take The Chief jointly. And when we have read each issue we pass it around to other Comanche people now living here in Okla. City: Dennis Herring, Fred Switzer, Ned Holman, Virgil Reed, and numerous other. When we get old we all like to think of when we were young and The Chief brings our younger days back to us. And we enjoy reading the old Chief from home.

Yours sincerely,
Charles S. Brown.

'Believe It or Not'

691 Crates of Blackberries on Three-quarter Acre Goverment Measured Land

This is the production of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Richardson's farm located about 4 miles east of Proctor, Texas, which berry acreage was measured by the Government Agent and is no guess work.

Mr. Richardson contracted to us, 3/4 acre of berries and on account of the outstanding delivery of berries that they had made to our plant this writer made a personal visit last Monday to the Richardson farm to secure first hand information as to their production. Mrs. Richardson advised the writer that their record was no guess work as they had a complete record of each picker and that they had settled with pickers for 691 crates of berries up to the time our plant closed down and late Monday at the time of our visit pickers were still at work with more berries to gather.

The Richardson place is outstanding and in addition to berries they have some 65 acres of fruit some of which will produce in line with their berries and any trucker will do well to keep the Richardson orchard in mind when in need of plums, peaches, etc.

While the Richardson production of berries is outstanding and by far above the general average of some 100 crates per acre, however, it does bring out the fact that good land will pay when planted to berries.

This writer is guilty and many others are in the same boat in that where I had land that would hardly sprout peas I planted it in berries expecting them to do as well as if planted on good land which is a serious mistake. While it is true that berries will possibly make more on poor land than anything else you might try to grow but for best results plant your berries on good land and a little fertilizer will still show results.

This is well brought out in the berry patch of Geo. Reeves who lives some 4½ miles North of Comanche in which he delivered to the plant some 278 crates from two acres planted in 15 ft. rows on good land which were the best quality berries delivered to us this season and judging from the new growth with his pruning operations he will far exceed this production next year.

Our observation was that on account of the late freeze last year most berry patches did not produce enough wood growth during the summer for a full crop this year, in fact, this writer knows that his berries were cut fully 50% from the usual production I have had in the past.

Even with the short crop and the further fact that most all growers gave some berries for picking and sold more or less to friends and neighbors, however, some outstanding deliveries to the plant follow:

Henry Kemp from 1 acre, 236 crates; A. A. Lam, 5 acres, 800 crates; K. L. Macon, 2 acres, 264 crates; Monroe Gray, 1 acre, 133 crates; E. T. Moore, 1½ acres, 203 crates; W. A. Mercer, 7½ acres, 907 crates; Carl Janes, 7 acres, 859 crates. Other large growers favorably mentioned for deliveries were J. J. Westbrook who delivered 753 crates of the cleanest and nicest gathered berries of any of the larger growers. Andrew Robertson delivered 1559 crates, being the largest delivery from any grower. Other growers who contracted to us were as follows: C. A. Bain, R. R. Collom, Chas. Carter, Chas. Cuthbertson, J. A. Eanes, L. E. Easley, A. L. Faulkner, W. M. Grigsby, G. H. Greenlee, F. D. Hancock, W. J. Hardin, F. S. Harris, Harvey Hicks, Homer Hillin, Riley Hilliard, H. A. Jamar, J. O. Jones, C. G. Kiser, Lillie Kearney, Jess Ladd, C. F. Ladd, C. E. LaRoque, R. C. Luker, Mrs. S. D. Miers, Tom Mazurek, J. H. McEntire, J. K. McGuire, A. L. Miller, S. M. Nichols, Guy Newman, W. A. Patton, D. O. Reese, Mrs. S. P. Smith, Chas. W. Springstead, Bob Seale, J. I. Starr, Don Smoot, Luke Springstead, Raymond Star, J. O. Stewart, E. L. Tackett, Mrs. W. A. Tipps, A. J. Williford, E. W. Woolsey, J. L. Bishop, Douglas Hilliard, Jim Durden, Fred Ellis, A. T. Albin, P. J. Easley, Wayne Gore, D. J. Gafford, W. E. Northcutt, Chas. Venerable, J. L. Jones, Tom Taylor, R. B. Easley, Lee Nelson, Anderson Sisters, Irvin Norwood, Geo. Moore, Henry Smith, D. T. Coker.

With the above you will see that the plant secured very good support from the growers, however, there are a few listed who failed to make delivery and some who delivered to trucks when it was favorable to do so, however, we are pleased to advise that there were few who did not regard it their duty to make delivery according to terms of our contract which was nothing more than their word and honor at stake in so far as we are concerned as we had no desire to force delivery. Neighbor can check against neighbor with the list.

We feel that berry prices are on the bottom and that there is every reason to believe that higher prices should prevail in the future rather than lower but we have no guarantee along this line.

BERRIES vs OATS

Basis present prices, which as we have outlined looks like the low down to us, berries will pay more than most anything else. As an illustration compare berries with the blackland oat farmers. According to our records most berry growers realized a net profit above picking expenses of 20c per crate this season. Few if any blackland oat farmers during the past two years have realized 20c net per bushel after threshing expenses are paid and they do not raise from 200 to 800 bushels of oats per acre such as the berry growers record indicate. When oats produce 30 to 35 bushels per acre they are considered good but if berries do not produce 50 crates per acre they are considered sorry. Of course there is some worry and anxiety in the growing of berries during harvest time but the risk is no greater and worry and anxiety no more than faces the grain man.

The above is food for thought and we believe the more you figure on actual net profits realized from growing berries in comparison with other crops the better you will like berries if your land is favorable. Last year was the nearest complete failure on account of freeze the berry industry has suffered. Other crops are often killed on account of weather. No insects bother berries which is just one of the few that does not suffer on account of insects.

Many large patches of berries in the country that have been seriously neglected on account of last year's freeze and no stabilized market but now with an assured market in which if they only build their production up to 35 crates per acre will do as well as the average farmer with his high priced blackland with oats.

BERRY PLANT TO RUN NEXT YEAR

We are well pleased with our first year's operation in running the plant and it is our present plans to enlarge and expand the canning plant so long as we can secure the necessary berries to run. If you desire to increase your acreage or plant your first acreage we desire to assure you a market for same provided the growers will supply us with not less than such as we secured this season. We canned 8 cars of berries this year which is hardly enough for us to operate each day as the plant can very easily handle one car per day and we hope to build this up to 12 or 15 cars per season, however, as a matter of convenience to growers we expect to operate next season the same as the season just closed provided the growers are satisfied with the way we handled the crop this season and are willing to cooperate sufficiently for us to continue the plant.

We are not asking any growers to contract or sign up with us now as it is impossible to outline what prices might justify next season but at any rate we are unable to see how prices could be lower.

The purpose of this article is to let growers as well as the general public know that we expect to continue the canning of berries as long as the contracted acreage of growers will justify the plant running.

Several growers have already expressed their desire to sign up with the plant another year and we will appreciate further expressions along this line as well as any new acreage that might be anticipated.

Headache, Bad Breath
May Be Your Warning

The sea's thrilling S. O. S. means "Help is needed now!" And, so do most of those headaches, that biliousness, coated tongue, or bad breath which are often signs of constipation.

To disregard these symptoms may bring on a host of other discomforts from sluggish bowels: sour stomach, belching, loss of appetite. See how much better you feel the day after taking spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. By simple directions, it acts gently, cleanses promptly, thoroughly. Its principal ingredient is an Intestinal tonic-laxative; imparts tone to lazy bowel muscles. Next time try BLACK-DRAUGHT!

Old Cora Building To Be Converted Into A Museum

BY J. R. EANES

The Cabin Committee appointed by the Comanche Lions Club, assited by other interested citizens succeeding in raising Tuesday morning of this week, sufficient funds to guarantee the purchase of the double log cabin at Old Cora, and moving same to the park at Lake Eanes.

It is the plan of those promoting this project to reconstruct the building as it is now and equip it for a museum for Comanche County pioneer relics and Indian relics and any an all other data and items of historical interest. The plan further contemplates the organization of the Comanche County Historical Society, and vest the ownership of the museum in this society. It is hoped that the entire county will take part in the organization of this society. All details are to be worked out, and later committees will be invited from different communities to assist in planning the museum and working out all details.

The Lions Club, The Chief, and others interested in the project desire to thank the public for their generous response. Your contributions have made it possible to preserve the old court house, and get underway the instituting of the museum at the park, to be house in a double log cabin, typical of pioneer Texas homes throughout Texas.

In next week's issue The Chief will publish a complete list of contributors to the "Cabin Fund" and this list will be preserved in the files of the museum as a part of historical data.

Interest is growing in the proposal and enough money has been contributed and paid in to assure its consumation, however, the more funds we have the more creditable work can be done and if you desire to help, your contribution will be appreciated. People are already offering articles for the museum. One man has offered a copy of The Chief published in 1873 and another copy published in 1875.

EXTENSIVE BUILDING PROGRAM IS NOW UNDERWAY IN COMANCHE

Comanche now has underway one of the most extensive building programs the city has enjoyed in the last twenty years. In addition to bonds voted for a new $200,000 court house, the construction of which is being held up awaiting available funds for a WPA grant, no less than twenty residences have been erected here within the last few months in addition to a number of improvements on business property.

New public buildings constructed within the last year include a new Comanche High School Gymnasium, one of the finest in the State for towns of this size; and a new Fire Station and City Hall.

The Fuller Construction Company was awarded the contract at $137,000 for construction of rural electrification lines out of Comanche, and now is busily engaged in the building of these power lines.

New residences and businesses follow:

Atwood Hatchery.

The Atwood Hatchery, which has been located here for the last four or five seasons, is building a new hollow tile 30x60 foot hatchery located on the De Leon Highway about seven blocks from the square. The new building will be a modern hatchery in every respect, and will be stuccoed inside and out.

Ed Atwood, manager, says that a new 16,000 egg incubator will be included in the new equipment added. This additional incubator will give the hatchery a total capacity of 44,000 eggs.

Mr. Atwood plans to add brooder houses on the eight acres that he has soon after the building is completed.

Roy Brannon.

Work got underway Tuesday morning on the second rent house to be constructed by Roy Brannon during the last month. The new house will be exactly like the first, except the bedrooms will be larger.

The house is being built on the Brownwood Highway, five blocks from town, and adjoins the nice six room frame house now being completed by Mr. Brannon.

Richard Pate.

Richard Pate is having a four room box walled and weather boarded frame house built this week.

The new home is located in the northern part of town near the J. A. Rock residence.

Dale Howard.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Howard is nearing completion.

The new five room rock veneer house is located between the residences of A. S. Morse and Mrs. R. A. Tupin in the western section of town.

R. S. McCharen.

The new home of County Judge R. S. McCharen has just recently been completed.

It is a nice six room frame house located adjoining his former home, near the high school.

The Durham Pecan and Peanut Plant has undergone extensive improvements during the last two months, and the storage warehouse has been enlarged considerably.

The Durham firm plans to add a sweet feed manufacturing plant as soon as the peanut market opens, and the warehouse was enlarged especially to house this new Comanche industry.

Burton Warehouse.

The Burton Brothers completed a new wool storage warehouse here recently.

The new warehouse is located on Depot Street near the Santa Fe Station.

C. P. St. Clair.

The new five room frame rent house of C. P. St. Clair will be completed within the next few days.

This new Comanche home is located in the northwestern section of town.

John Pogue.

John Pogue is having a nice six room rock veneer home built in the Newburg section.

Mark Sherrill is doing the building, and when completed it will be one of the finest in this particular section.

C. E. Willis.

C. E. Willis had his home moved from Proctor to Comanche two weeks ago.

This new five room frame house is located between the W. C. Cauley and Doc McNutt residences in the western part of town.

C. F. Denny.

C. F. Denny, Public Weigher, had a nice rock veneer home built near the scales recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Denny have been living in their new home for about three weeks.

Jim Cox.

Jim Cox started work this week on a new granary on his farm known as the Huff Place, located about six miles south of Comanche.

This makes the fifth granary that Mr. Cox has had built in the last few years.

Berry Plant.

Extensive interior improvements were made this year on the Durham Berry Plant; since this is the first season that the plant has operated in about five years.

A new tin roof was one of the major improvements.

J. C. Jacobs.

Among the residences completed here within the last few months is the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jacobs located in the southern part of town.

The home is a five room, white frame.

John Hammons.

John Hammons had his home near Van Dyke remodeled and enlarged recently.

The new home is a rock veneer.

Cemetery Improvements.

A beautiful new rock fence built recently and other improvements have done much to add to the beauty of Oakwood Cemtery.

The movement to beautify the local cemetery was sponsored by the Comanche Garden Club.

Carroll Loudermilk.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Loudermilk have a new five room residence just completed here.

The new white frame residence is located just west of the Pate Fagan home one block south of the square.

Ted Bonser.

Ted Bonser completed a new residence recently three blocks west of the Comanche West Ward School.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonser are now living in their frame home.

Frank Carlton.

Frank Carlton is another Comanche resident who has completed a new home here recently.

This new home is located one block west of the Comanche West Ward.

J. D. Smoot.

A new frame rent house was recently completed in the west part of town for Rev. J. D. Smoot.

The house is just west of the Judge McCharen home.

DON'T TRY TO TREAT COUGHS WITH HOME-MADE REMEDIES

Coughs Are Danger Signs. Treat Them Accordingly

If you are suffering with a cough of long-standing, and do not know its cause, go to see your doctor immediately. You might have a serious ailment. Even coughs due to cold or exposure often lead to serious complications by breaking down your resistance.

For the latter type cough there is a medicine, compounded by great scientist, fortified with bot Vitamins "A" and "D," given the world by a great laborator and sold by leading druggists under the name of Mentho-Mulsion at an all-time low price of 75c.

Although home remedies are sometimes effective, many of them have been proven merely superstition, so why take chance when Mentho-Mulsion is sold under an iron-clad guarantee of satisfaction or your money back b

Rural Life Conference.

From rural communities all over Texas, men and women will come to Tarleton July 18-20 to discuss among themselves and with experts, ways of building better communities. The conference is arranged and sponsored by cooperating religious denominations of Texas, by John Tarleton College, and the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. The central theme of the conference is economic, educational, social and spiritual rural life.

County Supt's. Conference.

The Sixteenth Annual Conference of County Superintendents, and County Supervisors will be held at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas from June 26-29. The general theme of the conference will enter around improving the quality of the rural school program through a program of cooperative supervision which:

1. Makes the school environment more educational.
2. Adjusts school organizations to individual and group needs.
3. Provides instructional materials that further the learning process.
4. Continues the training of teachers in service.
5. Makes curriculum planning a continuous cooperative undertaking.
6. Improves home, school and community relationships.

Transferring of Pupils.

Those who desire to transfer their children may fill out the blanks and file their application at this office. Under the present law the transfers are automatically granted upon application to the County Superintendent, and passed to the County Board of Education which may or may not approve the grant. The last day to make application for transfer is July 31.

State Aid Payments.

Our last communication from the State Department of Education was that the transportation money should be paid within two weeks. The last half of salary aid is also due at that time to be paid. As soon as the payments are received the bus drivers will be notified, those who are depending upon this payment, and the salary aid will be credited to the schools that the teachers might collect outstanding warrants on this fund.

Ernest Tupin Again Back In His Office

Ernest Tupin, who returned this week from Dallas where he underwent an operation, is again at work in his jewelry shop in the McNutt Barber Shop building.

In this day, when practically everyone seems to be searching for the slightest pretense to start looking for the Government or someone else to support them, Mr. Tupin is back at work in his jewelry store after undergoing four major operations in recent years.

He deserves the title of being "No. 1 Self Reliance Man of Texas," and is a worthy example of the old saying, "You can't keep a good man down."

In successive operations, Mr. Tupin has had to have both legs amputated, next, two fingers off his right hand, and finally the last operation, his right arm was amputated above the elbow.

Nevertheless, he is now at his office daily, and is doing repair work as well as managing his jewelry store.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TAX WILL GIVE $25 MONTH PENSION FOR AGED, SAYS HOWINGTON

BY FRANK HOWINGTON,
State Representative.

In view of the fact that there is going to be various statements made to the extremes on both sides of the discussion of Senate Joint Resolution Number 12, which has been so hotly contested on the floor of the House of Representatives, I am going to make these few remarks and give you a few facts and figures of what the bill would have done should it have passed. It was defeated Thursday by a vote of 91 to 56, lacking 9 votes receiving the required number.

At present we have about 116,000 old people on the pay roll receiving approximately $9,744,000 per year from the State. A liberalization bill has been passed liberalizing the pension program, which is estimated to place approximately 60,000 more on the roll, which will make a total of 176,000 and raise the obligation of the State to approximately $14,784,000, based on the same monthly average of $14.00 per month as we have now.

Should the bill have passed it is estimated by the best authorities that it would have raised approximately $17,000,000 for Old Age Assistance, plus what we are now receiving which would total approximately $56,500,000. Matched by the Federal Government it makes a total of $53,500,000. Based on the same monthly payments, there would be left $23,932,000, which if used for pensions would raise the payments from $14.00 to approximately $25.00 per month. These figures are as accurate as is possible to obtain.

It is impossible at this time to state when the Legislature will adjourn sine die. There are some who feel that we should adjourn and go home without making any further attempts. There are others who think we should stay here and try in some way to pass a tax bill regardless of how long it takes.

The State has a deficit of approximately $19,000,000, the Old Age Assistance has a deficit of approximately $5,000,000, and this session of the Legislature has remitted the advalorem taxes back to the various counties in the amount of several million dollars.

I have voted against all tax remission bills and as you know, the State indebtedness existed before I started my service in the Legislature and I am not responsible for same, however it becomes my duty as a member of the Legislature to exert every effort possible to decrease government expenditures and at the same time levy some sort of revenue to take care of the State's obligations.
